Cliff, Sea and Cape

Editorial, DCJ

Nauset Light beams its red and white signal from the high point of one of the most awesome sand piles on Cape Cod. The great cliffs retreat every year before the onslaught of the sea and as the cliffs wear back. The bars and dunes change character and grow as the land and sea ebbs and flows in rhythm. The sandbar from the Coast Guard Station which guards Nauset marsh in Eastham is 3 miles long. From the Coast Guard station to Race Point it runs a good twenty miles of magnificent fine white sand.

Scientists have found, by means of borings taken from the continental shelf, that the coast of New England once was 100 miles off shore at the edge of the continental shelf. When the great ice cap melted it revealed the bulldozed hook that we know as Cape Cod and the melt raised the sea level 600 feet. Even after the melt, it took 12,000 years for the land mass that is now the southern New England shore to rebound after being depressed by the great weight of the ice mass. So, in very recent history, in continental terms, the whole coast of New England was completely different and much further out to sea.

This Cape Cod coastline under constant yearly change is one of the premium playgrounds of our world. The attraction of its wonders has brought staggering changes now apparent on the old Route 6A. The new homes and condominiums just completed or being built are overwhelming the natural land. In the last 10 years more land has been tamed for habitat than was lost in perhaps the previous 30. Were it not for the establishment of the Cape Cod National Seashore the whole character of the land that was the original attraction would have been lost forever. As it is, in the nick of time, the beauty of the land, the native habitat for birds, animals and sea creatures is preserved for them to survive and for us and future generations to appreciate.

On a bitter first Sunday of March you would little expect a lot of activity on an exposed beach thundering under a surf driven by a frigid sea breeze. Well, look at those foot prints in the Nauset sand. People by the dozens brave that bitter chill to thrill to that magnificent sweep of ocean unbroken, untamed. The new generation is very much

Selectmen's Meeting

February 28, 1984 - by Virginia Arral

NEW CONTRACT WITH NEW BEDFORD ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE - PRICES UP

A new contract between the town and the New Bedford Animal Rescue League was signed last Tuesday. Several rates were increased to help defray the cost of operating the program.

Although the rules are basically the same, the charge to the town for confinement care per day was increased from $5. to $5.50 and the cost of euthanasia from $9. to $9.50. The charge to owners who claim their dogs will go from $5. to $6. This charge is paid to the town at the treasurer's office.

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta noted the league makes every effort to find the owners and has been very successful at it.

In other business, Selectmen:

RECEIVED word from SEMASS with answers to Selectmen's questions on the operation of the company. Selectmen will hold a joint meeting next Tuesday with the Board of Health and Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming to discuss the answers received.

Before signing a formal agreement with SEMASS, Selectmen had requested several areas of concern be clarified by the officers of the proposed waste-to-energy treatment facility. The plant, proposed to be built in Rochester, will handle Mattapoisett's trash along with that from other area towns.

ANNOUNCED that a final judgement has been reached in the Appeals Court case of Alice Oliver, abutter, against Peter Perkins, as chairman of the town's Planning Board.

Selectman James F. Huntoon explained the case originated when the town granted permission to build houses on Goodspeed Island. Miss Oliver appealed the decision to the Superior Court, which upheld the town. The recent Appeals Court final judgement found in favor of the Planning Board.

and towns who need to improve and maintain coastal facilities.

The state will match the town dollar for dollar in an approved project. The board is interested in repairing the town wharves but wants to determine if there are "any strings attached".

REPORTED that a town Board of Appeals petition for a Special Permit filed by Ralph and Barbara Whiterell, 45 Church Street, has been withdrawn by the petitioners, without prejudice.

RECEIVED a letter from George B. Mock, president of Mattapoisett Land Trust, informing the Selectmen the trust plans to obtain the services of a professional geologist from the Coastal Zone Management Program in Boston to check the area at the foot of Water Street, adjacent to the wharf road.

Selectmen requested that they be informed when the geologist comes to town so at least one of the Selectmen can accompany him to the site.

NOTED several minor violations were found by the state DEQE at its annual inspection of the sanitary landfill. They include: wind-blown litter should be controlled; the depth of daily coverage of bulky wastes should be checked and surface water should be drained off.

Town Board of Health Agent Donald Wood notified Selectmen all the problems are being remedied.

MOMENT OF SILENCE

Selectmen held a moment of silence in memory of Carolyn "Carrie" Sylvia, who died Monday, February 27. Chairman John DeCosta said, "Carrie was a devoted Grange Member", and he remembers when she helped him in the Juvenile Grange. "She was so good with children and was a loving and caring person. This is a great loss to Carrie's family and to the residents of the town".

Boston Classical Orchestra

Living in a small town frequently prevents residents from attending major musical or theatrical performances without driving an hour or more to a large metropolitan area. Fortunately the residents of southeastern Massachusetts will have the opportunity to see the Boston Classical Orchestra locally. On Sunday, March 18th, at 8:00 p.m. the BCO will appear in concert at Old Rochester Regional High School on Route 6 in Mattapoisett. The MMR Tri-Town Dollars for Scholars will proudly present the BCO in its first performance outside the greater Boston area. The evening's program will include "Eine kleine Nachtmucsik, K.525" by Mozart, "Symphony No. 94 in G Major" and "Trumpet Concerto in E-flat Major" by Hauden, and Josef Lanner's "Die Mozartisten Waltzes".

The Boston Classical Orchestra is comprised of outstanding professional Boston musicians and was founded in 1979 by Concertmaster Robert Brink, a resident of Mattapoisett. One of the main objectives of the BCO is to bring fine classical music to audiences throughout the state. The Orchestra is looking forward to the concert on March 18th as its first step in achieving this goal.

The concert is being sponsored by the MMR Tri-Town Dollars for Scholars Chapter, a non-profit organization whose sole purpose is raising funds for scholarships for residents of Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester. Established in January of 1983, MMR was able to award twenty-nine scholar-

Last week's library news included Paul B. Myers' review of "The Nuclear Barons" by Peter Pringle and Jacob Spigleman. The Presto apologizes to Mr. Myers for bringing his review to a very abrupt ending, and herewith prints the conclusion we inadvertently left on the cutting room floor:

Today we think we have come a long way in understanding the force called radiation. We have created thousands of megaton nuclear bombs to release enough radiation to kill millions of people within a few minutes.

Encouraging Reading

JIM TRELEASE TO SPEAK

Best-selling author Jim Trelease will address parents, teachers and the general public this Wednesday, March 7th, at the Old Rochester Regional Junior High School cafeteria beginning at 7:30 p.m. Trelease, who is the author of The Read-Aloud Handbook, will speak on "Reading Aloud: Motivating Children to make Books into Friends, not Enemies".

Using an anecdotal style that rings of enthusiasm and humor, Jim Trelease traces the need for reading aloud from the cradle to adolescence. Citing dozens of books and authors, he demonstrates the magic that can happen when children and books are brought together in pleasure.

He points to the need for those first books - board books, cloth books, junk books - to be experienced, to be chewed on, dribbled on, and lived with. From picture books to poetry, chapter books and novels, Jim Trelease describes the growth of children's interest and attention span.

The father of two children, Trelease also warns of the dangers from children "overdosing" on television and he offers a step-by-step plan by which parents can fend off the TV attack on children's living and learning.

We are fortunate to have Jim Trelease in our communities for an evening. All parents of children - newborn to adolescent - are encouraged to attend.

Throughout all of southeastern Massachusetts, Girl Scouts sell cookies to earn money for their Girl Scout troop treasuries and for their sister Girl Scouts Council-wide. According to the Cookie Sale Director, Barbara Spake, girls who sold cookies during the fall 1982 sale earned a total of $102,730 for their troop treasuries, and Ms. Spake projects that Girl Scouts will earn an even higher amount during the upcoming sale. Girl Scout troops plan their yearly activities based on the amount of money in their troop treasury.

Mrs. Charest is responsible for coordinating the cookie sale locally and for training Girl Scout troop chairmen.

Delivery dates for the cookies will be April 23rd to the 29th.

Juliet Brighton, began working backstage at the Fall River Little Theatre and the New Bedford High School Drama Club. Her first role with Spouters was as Hannah Warren in "California Suite". Louise also appeared in "A Murder is Announced", "Play On", "Verdict", and most recently, "Murder in the Magnolias". When Louise is not performing or helping out backstage, she teaches in the New Bedford Public School system.

The ingenue's part will be taken by Danielle Ferreira of Dartmouth. Danielle brings to the character of Wendy a theatrical career that began when she was 11 when she played the ghost of Christmas Past at the Dartmouth Middle School Mummers. Miss Ferreira was stage manager for the Mummers for 3 years. For a 14 year old, this young lady has sampled a wide variety of forms of entertainment. For 1½ years she had a mime group which performed locally, she played an old lady in "The Guild" with Playwrights and has been seen in shows at Southeastern Massachusetts University, most recently in "The Petrified Forest". Danielle has been in Spouters about a year making her debut with them in "Murder in the Magnolias".

Tobey Health Fair

Once again this year Tobey Hospital will sponsor a Health Fair in conjunction with Health Works '84, affiliated with WCVB, Channel 5, WHDH, and Emmanuel College, thereby contributing significantly to the largest community health project in the history of Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Last year Health Works provided free health screening and health education to 30,000 individuals at 85 different health fair sites.

The health fair will empower people to assume more responsibility for their own health. By increasing health awareness, health fairs encourage people to identify their particular health risks and minimize them by maintaining a healthy life-

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR LLOYD CENTER SUMMER PROGRAM-COASTAL & ESTUARINE STUDIES

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies announces that applications are now available for the award-winning Summer Program in Coastal and Estuarine Studies. This year the Summer Program is being offered for students completing 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th grades in June 1984. Each grade level has a separate program (4 weeks, five days a week each), instructors and educational objectives. Applications must be completed and forwarded to the Lloyd Center no later than May 1, 1984. Enrollment is limited and students are required to submit a grade report.

The Summer Program is very proud of its accomplishments in its first two years. In 1983 the Program was honored as one of the instructors and initiators of the Program, Richard Audet, received the distinction of Conservation Teacher of the Year for Massachusetts for his work in the Program. Mr. Audet will be planning and teaching the 9th grade program, offered for the first time this year. The 9th grade program (July 3-27) will be a combination of water chemistry studies, bacteriology and photography. Photography will be an underlying theme of the 9th grade program. Most of the activities of this Program will be field studies with laboratory, field trip and classroom components.

The 6th grade program (also July 3-27) is an introduction to environmental awareness of the coastal zone including study of the estuary, saltmarsh, rocky coastline and barrier beach. Canoeing and camping and field study of the ecosystems make this a very active program. Each student sets up and maintains a salt water aquarium, essentially reproducing life in the estuary. Two field trips, a whale watch and trip to New England Aquarium are included in the educational objectives.

The 7th and 8th grade programs are offered July 30-August 24. The 7th grade program builds on but does not presuppose the 6th grade experience with more field study, canoeing and outdoor skill development, field trips and investigations of the maritime forest, rocky coastline, estuary and fresh water habitats. As with the other grades two field trips and an overnight are included in the curriculum. The 8th grade program focuses on the physical and earth sciences with studies of glaciation, beaches, waves, and land use patterns in southeastern Massachusetts. The 7th and 8th grade programs include classroom and laboratory experience.

The Summer Program tuition is $250. Scholarship funds are available thanks to the generous contributions of the Dartmouth Natural Resources Trust and Westport River Defense Fund. The need for scholarship funds must be demonstrated. A sliding scale is offered for parents sending more than one youngster to the Program. Class size is limited to 10 per grade level. science is desired although extenuating circumstances, interest and motivation are also considered in selecting students for the Program. For an application or additional information call Dr. Alan Lee Hankin, Executive Director, Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, at 990-0505, or stop by the Lloyd Center, 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth, Tuesday through Sunday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

WALK ALONG PASKAMANSETT RIVER

On Sunday, March 11th, at 1:30 p.m. the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies will be offering an interpretive walk along the Paskamansett River in North Dartmouth. People interested in this program are requested to call the Lloyd Center at 990-0505 to register. There is no fee for this weekly walk. Participants should meet at the Lloyd Center no later than 1:30 p.m.

This walk continues the series of once-a-month programs on properties either owned or under conservation restriction to the Dartmouth Natural Resources Trust. The Trust owns and operates the Lloyd Center. Approximately 400 acres in Dartmouth are owned by the Trust and another 400 are under conservation restriction.

This walk will examine life along a section of the Paskamansett River at this time of high water. The property we will be walking on is a parcel owned by Robert and Ruth Burgess who have given a conservation restriction to this property to the DNRT. Some of the topics which will be discussed on this walk are the adaptation of animals and plants to periodic flooding and to rapidly running water, the bird life and other animals which are found in this area and the effect of non-living factors such as temperature, water turbidity and soil type on the organisms of the area.

For additional information call the Lloyd Center. Participants should have boots and be appropriately attired for a wilderness hike.

Sippican O.S. Grant to SMU

Sippican Ocean Systems, Inc. of Marion has awarded a grant of $6,000 to Southeastern Massachusetts University for support of the START Program. The START (Steps to Abstract Reasoning and Thinking) Program was established at SMU in 1979 to widen access to the highly demanding technical programs to minority and female students who, while meeting admissions requirements to the University, do not have the background in mathematics and science to enter its technical programs. START provides these students with an intensive program in mathematics, science, and problem solving. The goal is to give them the fundamental cognitive and mathematical skills and a core of scientific knowledge necessary for success in any of the scientific and technical programs at the University.

In his letter to Dr. Joseph P. Sauro, coordinator for the START Program, announcing the grant, Andrew M. Mendes, personnel manager of Sippican Ocean Systems, Inc., states, "I feel we are very fortunate to be part of such a deep reaching goal-oriented program for youngsters who might never have known the challenges and awards afforded them." In a letter to Dr. William Wild, SMU President, Sauro emphasized it is SMU that is fortunate to have neighbors such as Sippican Ocean Systems, Inc. who give support to the University.

The grant from Sippican Ocean Systems, Inc. is the third grant that company has given to SMU to support the START Program. It is used to make tutorial services available to the students. In a letter to Mendes acknowledging the receipt of this grant, Sauro stressed how critical the tutorial services which this and previous grants from Sippican Ocean Systems, Inc. are to the success of the program.

members from Plimoth Plantation will travel to England this spring to research roots of the Pilgrim settlers.

Financed by a $45,000 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Plantation staffers will research dialects, farm and construction techniques, 17th century farm animals and the social origins of the colonists.

"This represents a dream come true for us", said Dr. Richard L. Ehrlich, assistant director of the living history museum. "We know there are materials available in England that we haven't been able to see."

The research will enable the Plantation's interpreters in the 1627 Pilgrim Village and aboard Mayflower II to give a more accurate portrayal of 17th century English customs and of the characters who came here.

"Unlike similar American museums, Plimoth Plantation has its roots in England," said Ehrlich. "Early colony records are sketchy, at best, so we must review records abroad to document the lives of the Pilgrims."

Dr. Ehrlich, who lives in Plymouth, will direct the research project. Ehrlich wrote the grant proposal.

Rob Tarule of Plymouth, curator of mechanick arts, will research woodland crafts and agricultural techniques, while Peter Cook of Newburyport, chief curator, will study 17th century farm animals.

Len Travers of Plymouth, head of interpretation, will research regional dialects and the backgrounds of colonists who came from northern England. James Baker, research librarian, will research the backgrounds and social origins of colonists from the southern parts of England. Carolyn Travers of Plymouth, assistant research librarian, will study period clothing and will travel to Holland to research Dutch customs.

Plimoth Plantation is the outdoor living history museum of 17th century Plymouth. Its major exhibits include Mayflower II,

SHOW-STOPPING "ANNIE GET YOUR GUN" AT ZEITERION THEATRE

"ANNIE GET YOUR GUN", the classic Irving Berlin musical comedy that ran for three years in New York, will be presented at the Zeiterion Theatre for two performances on Saturday, March 17th, at 2:00 and 8:00 p.m.

This is the show in which Ethel Merman scored a personal triumph in her portrayal of the fabulous marksmanship champion, Annie Oakley. Country-western star Helen Cornelius will have the same role here of the female sharpshooter; and Dave Rowland will be seen as Frank Butler, the man her heart aims at but can't capture until she lays that rifle down.

In this musical comedy, adapted by Herbert and Dorothy Fields from Annie's life, and embellished with some of Berlin's most infectious tunes, the romance between Annie and Frank runs a bit less smoothly than it did in real life, with the two crack shots continuing their rifle rivalry to the point where they must try to out-do each other

"Annie Get Your Gun" premiered in New York in May 1946 and the abundance of no less than twelve major songs brought it capacity audiences until February 1949 - a total of 1,147 performances and the greatest Broadway success that the Fields and Berlin had in their notable careers.

The Berlin ditties are Tin Pan Alley, but right out of the top drawer, and come along in ample profusion - ballads like "They Say It's Wonderful", "My Defenses Are Down" and "Lost in His Arms", and comedy numbers like "Doin' What Comes Natur'lly" and "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun"; and the all-time crowd-rouser like "There's No Business Like Show Business".

In addition to Helen Cornelius (Annie) and David Rowland (Frank), the large cast will include Steve Abolt as Charlie Davenport, Deborah Brown as Dolly Tate, Don Piper as Buffalo Bill, Fred Urbanski as Pawnee Bill and David Coffee as Chief Sitting Bull. The large cast of 19 principals and chorus is under the direction of Ken Ellis, with dance numbers being staged by Mr. Ellis and the stage settings de-

Myopia or nearsightedness is a vision condition in which closer objects are seen more clearly and objects further away appear blurred. Under the state's Unclaimed Money Law, legally designated M.G.L. Ch.200A, bank accounts, insurance proceeds, uncashed gift certificates, payroll checks, customer overpayments and the like that have gone untouched for at least five years are deemed to be abandoned and must be reported to the Treasurer.

"Success breeds success and this program has been among the most successful in the nation," Crane said. "Also, we are proud it has served as a model for similar programs in other states."

Crane said compliance with the law is improving. Nevertheless the Treasurer said he is disturbed at the apparent lack of effort on the part of banks and other institutions in searching for the missing owners. "How can anyone fail to locate A T & T, Exxon, the New England Patriots, or the Holiday Inn?", the treasurer asked.

Crane noted one important aspect of the Unclaimed Money Law requires that until claimed, all funds are kept in the state's General Fund where they are invested for the benefit of all residents and taxpayers here in Massachusetts.

Names of those in this are are as follows: Aaronson, Arthur; Aaronson, Susan; Aiello, Sebastian; Allen, Clark B., CSS Liquidating Corp.; Bradford, Helen L.; Chenault, Price M.; Conti, Anne; Dawson, Christopher; Francis, Samuel A.; Frazee DMD, J. STRIPES

Today, it seems like most every famous designer has put his name on a shirt.

The problem is that great designers aren't often great shirtmakers.

And one by one the shirtmakers who became famous for the quality of their shirts disappeared. Except for one.

It's easy to see the difference in Sero quality. And it's easy to understand the reason for the difference. Today, Sero makes their shirts the same way they made them 35 years ago. Carefully and painstakingly. And they still make them where they can keep an eye on quality.
